

Errata for PhD Thesis

Ecology and evolution of coastal Baltic Sea 'dead zone' sediments

Linnaeus University press, ISBN: 978-91-88761-01-9

Elias Broman

Location	Original text	Correction
Page 17- 18	Such strategies consist of 1) biomanipulation by adding predators that feed on phytoplankton;	Such strategies consist of 1) biomanipulation by adding or removing predators that affect the amount of phytoplankton;
Page 25-26	Organic matter content (% wt) in the sediment was determined by loss on ignition of dry pre-weighed sediment at 550°C for 30 minutes in a muffle furnace (OWF 1200, Carbolite).	Organic matter content (% wt) in the sediment was determined by loss on ignition of dry pre-weighed sediment at 550°C for 4 hours in a muffle furnace (OWF 1200, Carbolite).
Page 46	Anoxic incubations after 15 and 21 days compared to the field showed no statistical significance for diatoms (Kruskal Wallis test, $p = 0.044$ ).	Anoxic incubations after 15 days compared to the field showed no statistical significance for diatoms.